Citizens' Participation in Water District Now of More Importance Than Editorials

Argument over the merits of a "wet" or "dry" Millwood dam is of secondary importance now that Magnolia and Texarkana and Hope have joined in a solid front for the Southwest Arkansas Water District.

The important thing now is to let Washington have the full impact of the weight and influence of this territory and its people, comprising the greatest segment of population, industry, and invested capital among the combined southwestern counties.

That impact is achieved not by newspaper editorials but by the accomplished fact of thousands of citizens taking out membership in the Southwest Arkansas Water District and writing individual letters to their senators and congressman. Washington pretty well knows by this time how the various editors feel about Millwood; and this is where the individual citizen comes in—he's got to put the clincher on this issue by joining the Southwest Arkansas Water District now (a membership coupon is being published by newspapers throughout the area), and then writing his personal endorsement to the congressman and senators.

Editors may help start something—and this writer has been "on" Millwood nearly a decade—but only the people can finish it.

When you hear what we are up against in the way of propaganda and distortion of obvious facts you'll recognize the need of this appeal to citizens for memberships and letters to congress.

Washington has been deluged with letters advocating the upstream dams with water and a Millwood dam without water. It appears that a corps of typewriters was set up, turned out thousands of persuasive letters—and these were distributed for mass signing. But except for newspaper discussion Washington heard virtually nothing from the downstream area, where most of the people live and where the major industries are domiciled.

We who live downstream are, therefore, compelled to correct the record in Washington as to what the majority in southwest Arkansas really want, and to demonstrate that what we want is fair and just to all the people, whether upstream or downstream.

The original Corps of Engineers recommendation was for the development of the Little River Basin by a single large dam, Millwood—and congress authorized its construction nearly a decade ago.

Ever since that authorization the one-dam plan has been fought relentlessly by Dierks Forests, Inc., largest landowner in the region. As opposition continued through the years a sensible compromise appeared. If the upstream intrests were genuinely desirous of obtaining reservoirs on Little River for municipal, industrial and agricultural water then reduce the size of Millwood by one-fourth and distribute the rest of the flood-containment capacity among six new upstream dams.

Thus there would be water for all.

But apparently someone upstream is more interested in blocking any development of Little River than in assuring water reserves for all the people, both upstream and downstream—and is implementing that filibuster by demanding reservoirs with real water behind their gates, upsream, but a "dry" Millwood downstream.

What you are looking at is the old, familiar story of the Western movie—one large landowner battling to keep the people away from the water-hole, stifling growth and paralyzing progress. And progress in our time is infinitely more dependent on water reserves than it was in the days of the Frontier when water's main role was to maintain cattle.

Does this not suggest to you that Dierks' role in stirring up the people north of here is somewhat more sinister than a mere attempt to hold on to its timberland? Isn't it possible that Dierks, unwilling to develop industry upstream—after promising that area a paper mill it finally put it in Pine Bluff 200 miles away—is trying to keep out competition from new industries by literally cutting their water off?

Anti-American Attacks Mount in Philippines

MANILA (AP) — Congressional attacks on the Philippine government's relations with the United States mounted today.

More representatives joined House Speaker Jose B. Laurel Jr., who touched off the outbursts, in charging that American policy is to take the Philippines for granted. They demanded re-examination of economic and military agreements between the two countries.

Hope Persons Defendants in $57,691 Suit

Texarkana — Officials of the Hope Flooring and Lumber Co., have been named defendants in a $57,691.55 civil suit which has been filed in Arkansas Federal Court.

The suit was brought by John Vesey, trustee for the company, adjudged brankrupt in May, 1953.

Defendants are W. W. White of Hope, president, stockholder and director; his wife, Elise, stockholder; Lawrence Banks of Fordyce, director, stockholder and secretary, W. L. White of Hope, stockholder and vice-president; and John A. Wallace of Little Rock, director, stockholder and treasurer.

The plaintiff alleges that the corporation was insolvent from its organization in April, 1949, until it was declared bankrupt. He alleges that the defendants knew this, but fraudulently did business with innocent parties, knowing the corporation would be unable to reimburse them for materials sold to the corporation.

Vesey further alleges that the defendants fraudulently disposed of 749,959 feet of hardwood, thereby reducing the assets to the extent of $45,000; that Elise White is in debt to the corporation for $12,691.55; and that the defendants received unauthorized pay of $375.

The plaintiff seeks judgment against the defendants jointly and severally in the sum of $57,691.55.

Demonstration of Forestry Draws Crowd

Some sixty-five enthusiastic individuals interested in forestry attended the B. J. Ellis farm forestry demonstration yesterday. The group observed rolling sandy farm land in pine trees producing a very profitable continuous crop, according to County Agent Oliver L. Adams, who directed the program.

A one-acre special demonstration provided a log and pulpwood yield of $20.00 per year for the last nine years. The harvest was made by a Ozan Lumber Company crew using ultra-modern equipment. Harvests amounting to a total of $181.50 were made from the acre in 1947, 1950, 1953 and at the demonstration meet. Mr. Ellis stated that more timber was left on the acre after the harvests than was on the acre when the demonstration was selected.

Buster Denton, District Forester, Arkansas Forestry Commission, demonstrated method of fire suppression as used in timber fire control. Mr. Denton urged the keeping of emergency equipment available for fire emergency. He asked that every individual locating a fire to noitfy the fire tower at Prescott or to advise local and state law enforcement authorities at once.

International Paper Company Conservation Marker John F. Ellis with headquarters at Nashville, showed how to make a frist harvest in a young pine stand and made suggestions on future harvests to secure the highest yields in timber and dollar value. Mr. Ellis also discussed the procurement plan and farm timber stand assistance to timber owners as offered by this company.

The outstanding demonstration work being carried on at the Fruit and Truck Experiment Station was discussed by Cecil Bittle, Director in charge. Mr. Bittle showed through the use of a demonstration how the yield of timber was being increased and a harvest was being made continuously under the management plan. A special visiting day to observe the timber work is to be held at the Hope Station early in October.

Timber stand improvement assistance payments as available through the ASC program were discussed by Cecil Guthrie, Hempstead County ASC Office Manager.

Harold Howell, Extension Forester, emphasized the great possibilities in pine timber as shown by B. J. Ellis in his outstanding job in management of the pine on his sandy upland farm during the last 40 years. The local Extension Service Office has much research information that will assist farmers increasing the annual yield of farm timbers.

Mother Gets 3 Sons Out of Fire Safely

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—A mother smashed the door of a burning shed yesterday to rescue her three sons and douse their flaming clothes with water. The mother, Mrs. John R. Wilson, suffered burns on the hands.

The oldest child, Robert, 10, was in serious condition at Boulder Community Hospital. Two brothers, James, 7, and Mickey, 5, had lesser burns.

Police said the youngsters locked themselves in the small frame building and were playing with matches. Straw and lumber in the shed caught fire.

Mrs. Wilson saw the smoke, heard her sons' screams. She smashed the locked door from its hinges with an ax.

He's Stopped Smoking, But Suspects Benefits to the Non-Smoker Are Overrated

By RELMAN MORIN
For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—About this business of not smoking . . .

Nearly a year has elapsed since I lit my last cigarette. It still seems like a miracle, difficult to believe after 25 years of heavy puffing. I don't intend to start again.

However, the subject of this essay is not "How I Stopped Smoking."

It is, rather, that the benefits of not smoking may be greatly overrated.

As I understand it, each of us is a special little chemical works, different in some details from every other. What is harmful to one person may have little or no effect on another. So doctors are by no means in agreement about the effects of tobacco.

My experience, for what it's worth, has been this—

I don't find that I worry now, have more energy nor sleep more soundly. My disposition hasn't improved. And writing a simple declarative English sentence is still likely to be an obstacle bigger than Mt. Everest.

In other words, I feel pretty much as I did when I was smoking.

Then why stop?

Well, there was an illness .... doctor's advice.

However, he is among those physicians who believe that, used in moderation, tobacco eases tension and promotes relaxation. He thinks the beneficial effects of this may outweigh any physical disadvantages.

This, of course, would be the

Lightning Only Scorches Girl

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— Lightning scorched the clothing of 14-year-old Carole Guthrie as she lay in bed at her home here last night.

The lightning bolt, striking during a thunderstorm, knocked out a television set in Carole's bedroom and blackened a fireproof window shade. Carole was not hurt.

Spa Chamber and Churchmen Will Confer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A delegation from the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce will meet here April 13 with officials of a group of Protestant layment who have organized to fight legal gambling in Arkansas.

The churchmen, operating as the Arkansas Christian Citizens Council, plan to sponsor in the November general election an initiated act to outlaw pari mutuel betting.

Approval of such an act would have the effect of closing the state's only horse race track, Oaklawn Park at Hot Springs, and preventing a new dog track at West Memphis from opening for business.

Dowell Anders chairman of the council's Legal Committee, said yesterday the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce requested the meeting in a letter signed by the C of C manager, Mort Cox.

The letter, read at a secret meeting of the council here yesterday, offered no reason for the meeting, said Anders.

At Hot Springs, Cox declined comment on the request, other than to say that it would be "an exploratory session.

Cox refused to say whether the Hot Springs group would try to persuade the council to alter its proposal to allow horse racing to be continued.

The anti-gambling organiation was formed at the height of a struggle over Southland Racing Corp.'s attempt to gain a franchise for its West Memphis dog track. Southland has obtained a court-ordered operating permit, but company still is involved in litigation. No date has been set for opening the track.

Anders said yesterday that the council will conduct a campaign May 20-27 for slightly more than 33,000 signatures on petitions to refer the proposed intigated act to public vote in November. The organiation also voted to seek public contributions totaling $25,000 to finance the drive.

Pari mutuel betting is the only form of gambling which is legal in Arkansas. It provides the bulk of race track revenue.

Tabernacle to Hear Address on China

This community will be priviledged to hear a "Voice from China," in the person of former Lt. Col. Samuel C. Hsiao who came to the United States from Ancient Cathay. The Hope Gospel Tabernacle, 321 North Main St. is sponsoring a service to which the public is invited at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, March 28.

Mr. Hsiao will speak on the current China situation and the vital mission effort of the "Home of Onesiphorus." He will also show a beautiful sound and colored film. "God's Other Children."

This unusual mission was established in 1916 to minister to destitute children. Among a large group of little ones brought from a North China famine area was young Samuel C. Hsiao.

U. S. Reds to Give Treasury All Records

By JACK LOTTO
From Our Wire Services

NEW YORK, The Communist party, reeling under the government's seizure of its records, assets and newspaper offices, agreed today to open all its safes to treasury investigators.

The first of the nationwide "Operation Safe Opening" activities took place at the New York office of the Daily Worker in the presence of Attorney Harry Sacher.

T-men, who yesterday padlocked party headquarters and offices from coast to coast for non-payment of taxes, began an "audit and inventory" of the closely-

Atkins Tells Importance of Water

"The most important material thing of life is a subject of great concern to all humanity today, because humanity must have water today, tomorrow and forever," W. S. Atkins, well-known southwest Arkansas attorney, told Hope Kiwanis club today in a ringing plea for all-out support of a wet Millwood Dam.

"We in Arkansas are fortunate by having many streams and rivers, and thinking people in other sections have harnessed these streams and rivers for use now and for generations to come and we here in Southwest Arkansas must do the same.

"Here in Hope and Hempstead county, we do not have to be told there is a serious water shortage. The City of Hope drills a new water well just about every three years at a cost of thousands of dollars. In 1955 we used on an average 85,000 gallons more water per day than we did in 1954.

"In 1952 the Arkansas farmer experienced a drouth that burned his crops, his livestock suffered and hardships resulted for everyone. The same thing happened in 1953, and 1954 was a repeat performance of hardships and suffering.

"Within the next two decades, we are told, the public will consume 40 percent more water; municipal and other public demands 75 percent more water; and thirsty industry will demand 92 percent greater consumption than it does today.

"It is undeniable that water is our most precious asset. We sometimes forget that almost every item which we produce or use in daily living requires an abundant supply of raw water. It takes 18 barrels of water to refine a barrel of oil; 115 gallons of water to produce a pound of cotton or a pound of beef.

"And this brings us down to Millwood Dam. Congress first authorized Millwood in 1946 for flood control purposes, following the great floods of the previous year. Opposition developed. Years passed. The doubts came. Hardships resulted.

"A resurvey was made of Millwood, and the latest report of the U. S. engineers is for six smaller dams upstream, with Millwood cut 25 percent in size and recommended for a dry dam, its gates to be left open, except in time of flood threats.

"I have studied this project from all angles, but have been unable to find any justification for building a 55 million-dollar Millwood and leaving it dry, with no water for municipal, industrial or agricultural purposes.

"They say there is some opposition by upstream interests to a wet Millwood, but I am like the editor of the Texarkana Gazette . . . . when you speak of upstream interests you speak mainly of Dierks Lumber and Coal Company period," the speaker declared.

"It is my understanding that Dierks controls 108 millions of acres of timberland in midwestern Arkansas counties and Southeast Oklahoma, and yet they don't want even a single acre of that land or timber to be flooded in the proposed Millwood area.

"Upstream interests want six small dams, three in Arkansas and three in Oklahoma. They want water rights for municipal, industrial and Agricultural uses for themselves, we have no quarrel with that. We want everyone to have all the water they need, yet the upsream interests want to deny the downstream interests even a single drop of water for Millwood, and that's not right.

"But right does not always prevail, especially when you are dealing with politicians. Let's get busy, let our representatives know about the awful reality of a falling water table, and get Millwood dam built — a wet Millwood dam," the speaker concluded.

Great Dust Storm Engulfs 6 States of Paririe West

Column Towers 20,000 Feet; Planes Dodge It

DENVER (AP) — An eerie wall of dust shrouded a six-state area of the prairie West today along an 800-mile path from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Waco, Tex.

The first severe windstorm of the year sent grimy clouds boiling to 20,000 feet and forced rerouting of some airline flights.

In its wake was untold damage to spring crops, grazing land and range animals. In Eastern Colorado alone, federal agriculture officials estimated up to 75 per cent of the state's 3,400,000 acres of winter wheat was blown aloft.

The weatherman predicted relief for southern Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico today. But there was little letup in the ferocious winds that battered Kansas, Oklahoma and north Texas.

Several eastern Colorado towns reported wind gusts to 85 m.p.h. Gusts were clocked at 54 m.p.h. in Denver.

The Colorado highway patrol closed U.S. 40-287 and U.S. 24 between Limon and the Kansas border for more than eight hours. Three hundred motorists were given emergency shelter at Kit Carson, where residents reported visibility cut to less than a city block.

As the winds receded at dark yesterday, all roads in Colorado were reported open. Some Colorado schools had been closed during the day.

Bus drivers reported dust drifting two and three feet high along fence rows in eastern Colorado and western Kansas, agriculturally rich areas which have been hammered for four years by severe winds and drought.

United Air Lines reported some westbound flights delayed as much as 80 minutes by strong headwinds and rerouting. Pilots reported a huge dust cloud 20,000 feet high over southeast Colorado.

The area is the same as that inspected last year by Secretary of Agriculture Benson on a flying trip West. Much of it is in the same region left in desert wastelands during the Dust Bowl years of the 1930s.

Tax Seizure of Communist Daily Worker Was Idea of New York Collector Alone

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald R. Moysey, a new tax collector for the Internal Revenue Service, seems to have left his bosses bewildered with his sudden raid on the Communists to try to get back tax money out of them.

At least they gave that appearance.

This was a more sudden and drastic step than any undertaken by the Truman administration or by anyone in the Eisenhower administration up to this time. Bth had worked steadily to put a halter on the Communists through long court action.

Moysey was quoted by the revenue service's main office here as saying he had thought up the idea himself. For years he had worked as an auditor in the main office.

On Feb. 7 he was made director for the Lower Manhattan District in New York. There yesterday he seized — for back taxes — the Communist party headquarters, its assets and records, and its newspaper, the Daily Worker.

Simultaneously across the country other directors did the same thing to Communist party offices in Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The taxes were said to be $389,000 for the party, $46,000 for the paper. The Daily Worker says it operates at a loss.

Moysey's boss Russell C. Harrington, commissiner of internal revenue, was asked for an explanation. He told me he could give none until he had learned the details. This was hours after the raids.

Could the raids have been made without his permission? He said "I guess I have to take responsibility for them." Could they have been so well planned and coordinated without orders from him? He said he had to wait for details.

Shortly after this he talked with Moysey by phone. Then one of his assistants phoned Moysey, in the presence of newsmen, and said Moysey told him he did the raiding on his own, this was a tax case in his area, and he had notified other regional directors to make similar raids.

Did Moysey have authority to get other directors in on the raids and could he do this without notifying Harrington? The commissioner's assistant said yes.

He quoted Moysey as saying revenue agents had asked the Communist party's attorneys to see its books and records but were told there were no records

Hope Drive-in Theatre Will Open Thursday

The Hope Drive-In Theater will have its gala re-opening Thursday night, with a free show the first two nights, Thursday and Friday. The feature will be "Hong Kong" starring Ronald Reagan and Rhonda Fleming.

Many improvements have been made at the Drive-In during the winter months to make it one of the finest in south Arkansas. The speaker posts have been moved forward on the ramps so that patrons in both front and back seat will have a good view of the screen. The quality of the in-ear speaker sound has been improved and the kiddies zoo has been enlarged.

Policy of the Drive-in theater will be three changes of program a week, Sun-Mon, Tues-Wed-Thur., Fri-Sat., with a midnight show every Saturday night. Admission will be adults 40c and children under 12 Free (when accompanied by adults).

For the kiddies there's a playground with swings, slides and merry-go-round, free kiddies' swing ride, kiddies' zoo with monkey, rabbits, Fan tail pigeon, Dovves and "Billy the goat." The big attraction at the kiddies' zoo will be "Cheta," a real live Chimpanzee, just like you see in the movies so bring the kiddies out early so they can enjoy the extra treats before show time.

Saturday the Drive-In will have its regular opening with a big Fireworks display at 9 p. m. and on Sunday there will be a big Easter egg hunt for the kiddies starting at 6:45.

B-47 Explodes in Kansas, 3 Crewmen Die

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A B47 Stratojet bomber from McConnel Air Force Base, Wichita, exploded high in the air and crashed in flames today northeast of Wichita, killing its crew of three.

Base officials said the instructor and two student pilots died in the crash, the first fatal accident involving a McConel B47 since a crash at Braman, Okla., Jan. 6, 1955.

Identities of the crew members were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Base officials said a second plane was in the air nearby when the B47 blew apart and fell in flames. They said the second plane was not involved in the accident.

The B47 crashed on the farm of E. J. Diefenbach, 63, about three miles northeast of the Wichita city limits.

Dienfenbach said he heard three explosions—first a minor one in the air, a second and larger blast, still in the air, and the third when the stricken plane hit the ground.

Emmett L. Carter, 45, another eyewitness, said the two planes were flying north in a parallel course when he saw the B47 explode.

and that the party was tax exempt. Forms were sent the party to fill out, proving its exemption.

They were ignored, the revenue service man said, so the raids were ordered. Now, with its property taken by the government, the party has 60 days in which to pay the taxes Moysey says it owes or fight the seizure in the courts.

The Democratic and Republican national committees, four to five times a year, file with the House fo Representatives reports in their income and expenditures. They pay no income tax because their income is from gifts.

Such filing is required under the Corrupt Practices Act if a political committee has income from more than one state. House employes said they cannot recall any such reports from the Communist party.

The Truman and Eisenhower administrations, acting under the 1950 Internal Security Act, have been trying to force the Communist party to register and disclose the sources of its income and its membership. That case is now pending in the Supreme Court.

If the records seized by Moysey reveal the sources of party income, then he has achieved in one raid what the government has been trying to do for years.

But it is not yet clear whether Moysey's raid will give the party new ammunition to fight the case pending in court. If it wins as a result of Moysey's raids, then six years of work will go out the window.

The study is expected to give the government its first full-scale "inside look" at the party's propaganda and other functions in the U. S.

Meanwhile, attorneys for the party and the Worker, which continued to publish, met to figure out what, if any, legal steps they can take to void the foreclosing actions over alleged tax evasion of over $435,000.

The Internal Revenue Department refused to discuss the agreement to open all safes, insisting it was a "private matter between us and the taxpayer."

But, a top spokesman for the Communist Party told International News Service that treasury agents were being allowed to examine all the hitherto secret membership lists, financial records and other documents.

If the party had refused to open the safes, legally, the Treasury Department could not have opened them without a court order.

T-men manned the switchboards of the national and state headquarters of the party in New York and the main offices of the Worker.

A spokesman for Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the party, said "a good question" now is where the party functionaries will operate.

They have dispossessed from their offices in New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit.

remained silent on the latest criticisms.

Some quarters viewed the concerted attacks as a move to discredit the Magsaysay administration preparatory to the 1957 presidential elections. However, the strongly nationalistic newspaper Manila Chronicle, commenting on Washington reports to this effect, said

"Current criticism of American acts in the Philippines will stop, we are certain, only if the United States stops treating the Philippines like a colony."

5 big reasons why the really new Plymouth gives you more for your money than any other low-price car

1 You get exclusive Push-Button Driving
Touch a button—off you go! This positive mechanical control is the safest, easiest ever. Only Plymouth has it among low-price cars.

2 You get the biggest car in the low-price three Inside and out, Plymouth is the "big boy" in its field. 17 feet long. Outmeasures the others in every important way. More room for all!

3 You get the only really new styling of the year
Don't let other low-price cars fool you with warmed-over '53, '54 and '55 models. Get the really new car—the all-new '56 Plymouth.

4 You get the greatest array of safety features
The "other 2" can't match Plymouth for safety. Only Plymouth offers Safety-Rim wheels, electric windshield wipers, 2-cylinder brakes.

5 You get the biggest deals around
Plymouth's value lead has sent sales soaring, enabling dealers to give you amazing deals. Come see how easy it is to own a big Plymouth.

PLYMOUTH costs less

From the day you buy it . . . through all the years you own it . . . you'll spend less on a Plymouth. That's one reason more Plymouths are used as taxis than all other cars combined.

Top Priority Given Plans for a Long-Range H-Bomb Missile, Wilson Discloses

By C. YATES MCDANIE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has ordered top priority for development of a missile powerful and accurate enough to deliver a shattering hydrogen charge, at supersonic speed, to targets thousands of miles away.

Secretary of Defense Wilson took this action yesterday in appointing Eger V. Murphree to be a new assistant with broad authority to direct the job of striving for victory in the missle race with Russia. Murphree, 57, is president of the Esso Research and Engineering Co. He will serve without pay while on leave from Esso Research.

Wilson said in a formal directive that Murphree would "devote major emphasis to missiles of the long-range type, particularly ballistic missiles."

The defense secretary designated Murphree to speak for him in all matters pertaining to new missiles within the defense establishment and before the National Security Council and the President.

Wilson said Murphree will start work next week and stay on the job for at least a year. Within this period, the secretary said, he thinks "a great contribution" can be made toward achieving an effective rocket-powered ballistic missile.

Some Democrats in Congress have been critical of Eisenhower administration efforts in the missile field, contending this country has been lagging behind Russia.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash), one of there critics, said of Murphree's appointment "Better late than never . . . I hope he will take a strong administrative control of the missiles work."

Jackson had urged a single civilian official in the Pentagon to coordinate and supervise the missile program.

Murphree will have more authority than any other previous official who has had the job of organizing and directing missile research and development operations.

In spelling this out, Wilson clothed his new special assistant with powers to utilize and cut across existing lines of responsibility in the areas of research, development, engineering and production.

However, Murphree —a veteran of more than 30 years in research engineering —will not be concerned with missiles the military services already have, nor with the question of which services will use any specific missile.

Of late, Pentagon officials have mentioned five years as the time it may take to develop and produce a missile capable of accurate firing at targets 5,000 miles distant.

ideal way to smoke.

It seems to me that tobacco is one of the good things of life, one of the rare pleasures, and should be treated as such. A fine cigar, a cool pipe or a few cigarettes are the hallmarks of a civilized man. The trick is not to overdo.

I couldn't learn that trick. My daily average was two packs of cigarettes and, under pressure at the typewriter, it would go up to three. Out of pure nervous reflex, I often lit one cigarette, and put it down beside another already burning. Over-indulgence was my middle name.

So there was no alternative but to stop entirely.

It had a number of interesting results. For instance, it decomplicates your life marvelously. Once, I wakened on a train in the early hours after midnight, found myself out of cigarettes, and couldn't rouse the porter. Sheer panic! That will never happen again.

How do you stop?

There are a thousand different methods.

Some people have had success with the "stretch-out" system. In this, you postpone your first cigarette five minutes each day; after a month, you will have delayed the day's smoking by two and one-half hours.

Another, and similar, plan is the "reward" idea. You don't tell yourself you are going to stop entirely, but you hold off as long as possible, then "reward" yourself with a smoke. Then hold off again.

Trouble with all these is that they focus your thoughts on tobacco, whereas the key is to forget it entirely. I believe it was Mark Twain who said something to the effect that smoking is not the kind of habit you can lead downstairs, one step at a time.

"You have to throw it out the window, bodily," he declared.

Young Girls Guilty in Matron Slaying

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Five teen-age girls charged with slaying a matron in their escape from the Summit County Detention Home pleaded guilty to manslaughter indictments yesterday and were sentenced to 1 to 20 years.

Common Pleas Judge Ray B. Watters sentenced Ruth Beichler, 17, and Zelda De Cost, 16, to the reformatory for women at Marysville. Three 15-year-olds-Shirley Shingler, Margaret Nicholson and Mirl Cain—were sentenced to the girls industrial school at Delaware until they are 16, when they will be transferred to the reformatory.

Mrs. Eula Bonham, the matron, was overpowered by the girls, who stuffed an ammonia-saked rag in her mouth before escaping from the home last Nov. 27.

BeBee Calendar Of Events ......

The BeBee C. M. E. Church 412 N. Hazel St. will close its spring revival officially Thursday night with the minister preaching the old famous text "The Eagle Stirreth Up Her Nest," Deutertonomy 32:11.

Friday morning at 9 a. m. several bus loads of adults and youth will take leave for the Narrows Dam and the mountains for a day's retreat of prayer and rest. This trip will be one of the many retreats the Pastor has planned this year for the spiritual developments of his followers. Every hour there will be a period of prayer and meditation until late in the evening, when about sunset the final meditation period will consist of a fireside message around a huge bon fire. Spirituals and hymns will be sung. An old fashion fish fry will be held about midnoon to break the fast of those who have accepted the challange to fast this Good Friday.

Inspiratinoal Hour

The Rev. I. M. Manning and the Mount Zion youth choir will take full charge of the Inspirational Hour this Saturday night. Mt. Zion youth choir is under the direction of Mrs. Anna Williams with Miss Bobbie Graham pianist. The Inspirational Hour carried the largest audience last Saturday night since it's beginning on March 3rd. The spacious BeBee auditorium was filled to it's capacity. Even a much larger crowd is expected this week. Even one attending the broadcast is asked to be seated in the building before 7 p. m. in order not to disturb the program after it goes on the air.

Easter Sunday

Easter Sunday morning the pastor Rev. C. S. Stearns will preach on the subject "He Lives." Fifty persons accepted a Self-Denial Folder about six weeks ago and pledged to deny themsevles of a dime a day during Lent Season These folders will be turned in at the 11:00 o'clock service Sunday.

Easter Sunday night Mrs. Anna Bell Yerger will present her Easter program with almost a hundred young people of all ages from 4 years to high school age participating. The program will get underway at 7:30 p. m. This year's program has the making to be one of it's best in BeBee's history.

Youth Department Presents Program

The Red Circle of Common Hill Baptist Church, present a program Sunday, March 25, 1956.

The Guest Speaker, Rev. T. W. Wyatt, delivered an inspiring lecture on "The Lord's Use For Children"

Union Service At St. Luke, Steppard

The Charity Baptist Church has united with us in our Union service. There are four churches in the union to date. Each Sunday, service is held at one of the four churches. The first Sunday, Charity Baptist, the second Sunday, St. Luke, Guernsey, the third Sunday, Mt. Siniai C. M. E., Wafer's Crossing and the fourth Sunday at St. Luke No. 2, Sheppard. Service was largely attended last Sunday. All churches will meet at Charity for a Union Easter Service.

The Pastor, Rev. E. N. Glover visited sister Jackson, who is ill and the church gave her a donation from the Sick Fund.

1956 May Be Magic Year for Mantle

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETRSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mantle, prepping for his sixth season in the major leagues, appears ready to reach the superstardom predicted for him since he joined the New York Yankees at 19.

Judging from his amazing exploits during spring exhibitions, the Oklahoma strongboy ought to tear the American League apart with his bat.

It would be no surprise if he captured the triple crown—batting, home run and runs-batted-in titles —as well as the league's Most Valuable Player honor.

Not since Babe Ruth trained here more than 20 years have local fans been as excited over a player.

Buddy Lewis, an old catcher with the Boston Braves, after watching Mantle for the first time, could hardly believe some of the drives Mickey hit.

"He ought to be the greatest player who ever lived," Lewis said.

Terry Moore, for years regarded as the top center fielder in the National League when he was with the St. Louis Cardinals, says.

"Mantle has more power than anybody I've ever seen, and that includes Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. I palyed against Ruth and Gehrig and I never saw either of them hit a ball as hard as Mickey has hit this spring.

"And hitting with power isn't the only thing he can do. He beats you four ways—hitting, fielding, running, throwing. He's just the best, that's all."

At 24, Mikey unquestionably has been the most exciting performer in the Grapefruit Circuit. In the Yaniees' first nine exhibition games, he walloped five home runs, two triples and three doubles. His batting average was .484. None of his homers traveled under 400 feet.

In a game against the Cardinals, he poled a pitch by right-hander Larry Jackson clear over a light tower in back of the 410-foot sign in right center field. The tower extends 75 feet. No tape measure was abailable, but old-timers agreed it was the longest ball ever hit at Al Lang Field.

That record blow lasted one day. The next afternoon, Mickey teed off on a pitch by rookie Bill Bradford of Kansas City and blasted it nearly out of sight, a drive that cleared the center field wall and soared over the tall palm trees some 475 to 500 feet away.

2 All-Staters of Camden to A. U.

CAMDEN, (AP) —Two all-state football players at Camden High School plan to enter the University of Arkansas next fall.

Both boys, halfback Billy Kyzer and lineman Steve Ozment have signed letters of intent to enroll at the University. The letters prevent any other Southwest Conference member from attempting to recruit the players.

Kyzer won all-district, all-state and all-Southern honors last year. He led all the state's Double-A backs in scoring.

Ozment was an all-district and all-state selection at guard. He was hampered last season by an ankle injury.

Lightburn Favored to Take Morgan

CLEVELAND (AP) —Those who feel they know enough about boxing to bet money on it were wagering today that the speed and experience of Ludwig Lightburn will prevail over the harder punching of L. C. Morgan in tonight's 10-rounder at the Arena.

The 21-year-old lightweights are meeting here for the second time. Morgan was favored six months ago when he lost a split decision in an eight-rounder. Today the odds were 2-1 on Lightburn.

Two weeks ago Lightburn breezed to victory over Hocaine Khalfi of Algeria in a TV card at Madison Square Garden. He now has won seven straight since he lost a pair to Isaac Logart in the welterweight class last May and June.

The victories have boosted Lightburn's popularity with TV fight fans and earned him fifth ranking among the lightweights.

Tonight's scrap will be televised by ABC, starting at 9 p.m. CST.

Lightburn has a record of 30 victories in 45 professional fights, 13 by knockouts.

Morgan, of Youngstown, Ohio, has flattened 10 of 16 opponents. In addition to the loss to Lightburn last fall, his only setback was in an early overmatching with Elmer Lakatos, whom he beat in a return fight.

Small College Player Unawed in Big Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Reigel, the only small-college player chosen for the college Olympic basketball squad, already has acquired a healthy respect for the size of his teammates but isn't overawed by their reputations.

Reigel, who set all sorts of scoring records for McNeese State College in Louisiana this season, is here to play in the Fresh Air Fund East-West all-star game in Madison Square Garden Saturday. He got his first look at the all-stars, including 13 other Olympic candidates, yesterday and his reaction was:

"Gosh, they're big."

Reigel is a slim, modest, easily embarrassed kid from Monaca, Pa., who wound up playing basketball in Louisiana after a hitch in the Army. He thinks being chosen as one of 14 college seniors to try for the Olympic team is about the greatest honor that could be bestowed on him.

At 6 feet 5, he has to look up to such players as his West teammates, 6-10 Bill Russell of San Francisco and 6-8 Gary Bergen of Utah and Dayton's seven-foot Bill Uhl, who will play against him for the East.

"I never saw so many big fellows," he gasped. "I don't think I'm exactly moving out of our class, but I'll have to jump a lot to get shots over these fellows."

Asked about his playing record, he said:

"It's funny that I seem to be getting all the credit when I really was the team that did it. We had a real good team. We played in the NAIA Tournament and won and they did as much as I did."

What Reigel neglected to mention was that he set a NAIA Tournament record by scoring 158 points in five tournament games. A specialist in jump and push shots, he scored 1,062 points in 31 games before the tournament, an average of 34.3 per game. That made him the nation's leading college scorer this season and one of four college players ever to make more than 1,000 points a season.

Cardinals' Top Practice Pace Due to Hurling

By BEN OLAN
Of The Associated Press

Considering that the Pittsburgh Pirates put together the best record among major league teams last spring, theres no reason for the St. Louis Cardinals to rejoice because they're making a juicy showing in the Grapefruit League.

But the fact is that the Cards, woefully weak in pitching the past few years, are getting loads of good chucking in the exhibition games. They've won 11 games and lost 7 for the best spring mark among National League teams.

And improved pitching has been evident in just about every one of their 18 outings. In no game did the Cards have more than seven runs scored against them. They've won by 1-0, 2-1 and three times by 3-2. Their losses, too, were squakers—by 1-2 (twice), 1-3 and 3-4 (twice).

Luis Arroyo and Tom Poholsky each have picked up two victories. The others went to Vinegar Bend Mizell, Larry Jackson, Ellis Kinder, Ben Flowers, Stu Miller, Harvey Haddix and Gary Blaylock.

Yesterday Arroyo got the win as the Cards nipped the Milwaukee Braves 2-1. The St. Louis trio—Mizell, Arroyo and Kinder —limited the Braves to two hits. The Cards picked up the winning run in the seventh inning on singles by Joe Cunningham and Bill Virdon and an infield out.

Trailing the Cards in the National League grapefruit standings are the Cincinnati Redlegs, New York Giants and champion Booklyn Dodgers with 10 victories against 8 setbacks. Pittsburgh, which led with an 19-11 record last spring, is 9-8 this time as are the Chicago Cubs. The Braves are 8-9 and the Philadelphia Phillies bring up the rear with 7-10.

The New York Yankees, idle yesterday, top the American League with 11-6. Then come Chicago with 10-6, Cleveland 11-7, Kansas City 8-7, Boston 7-9 Washington 5-9, Baltimore 5-12 and Detroit 4-13.

The White Sox were knocked out of the lead yesterday, by dropping a 7-2 decision to the Red Sox. Jim Piersall paced a late Boston rally, driving in three o fthe four runs the Red Sox scored in the seventh and eight innings.

In other games, the Dodgers beat the Phillies 6-2, the Pirates downed the Redlegs 5-4, the Cubs outslugged the Giants 13-10 the Athletics dumped Detroit 7-2 and Cleveland nipped Baltimore 8-7.

Fixed Fights Common Thing on West Coast

By ORVILLE HENRY
Arkansas Gazette Sports Editor
Written for The Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, (AP)—The early findings of the California commission investigating the Los Angeles boxing setup shouldn't shatter anyone's illusions.

The fact that at least 12 alleged "fixed" fights have been uncovered helps the headlines, but it long has been common knowledge that most fighters who aren't going anywhere generally understand when they're to win or lose. The town, the crowd, the opponent and the promoters or the man behind them combine to create situations that are sensed and accepted by the combatants.

If it weren't for the men on top—like Rocky Marciano and Joe Louis — who have lent personal dignity to the connivers, there would be no justification at all for professional boxing today.

Men of their respective races can always aspire to attain their positions and purses.

"If you can get to the top, look what you'll earn" — that's what the neophytes are told.

And yet the beginners should know better. If they seldom get more than 20 per cent of their purses, if that much, as beginners, should they expect to get more of the big ones? And if they do, could they keep enough from the present unfair income tax bite against short-career athletes to profit? What if they fail, as 90 per cent do?

Pro boxing today can't have much appeal for any young man of intelligence—the sort that all other competitive sports want more and more of.

By and large it is for the youngster who, because of his environment, is going to the dogs anyway, so to speak, and might as well do it for some pay and some brief heydey.

Perhaps that is the way that the public, which still craves boxing despite everything, wants it.

appeal . . . does your town have it?

That "I" stands for Industry, and Industry is particular. What appeals to Industry? A fresh trim community that has set high standards for itself — and that's easy for an industry to spot just driving through. A neat industrial area with utility questions answered, a progressive shopping center, good schools and attractive subdivisions: these things can hold the interest of an industry that is "just looking." Make plans for your community's future, and then protect those plans with zoning. For more details, write the AIDC, c/o Bill Ewald.
